

Message from Ambassador Saurabh Kumar to all members of the Indian community in Ireland

Dear friend,

After four lovely years in Ireland, it is time for us to say good-bye as we prepare to move to our next assignment (in Vienna). We will leave Dublin with a heavy heart and many a sad sigh at the impending parting with good friends. We shall miss the warm Irish welcome long after we are gone from Dublin.

My wife and I would like to express our thanks to you for your friendship and assistance. We could hardly have completed our tenure here with the sense of satisfaction that we have without help and co-operation from friends like yourselves and we shall always cherish the pleasant memories of our association. Lots more remains to be done to raise the profile of our country in Ireland and I am confident my successor, Ambassador Raghavan, will receive the same cooperation from you in this endeavour that we were privileged to. I take this opportunity to once again request all those who have not so far registered at the Embassy website www.indianembassy.ie to please do so to facilitate our efforts to reach out to all and keep in touch..

Thank you again and we take leave of you in the hope that our paths cross again in the future. Meanwhile, our best wishes to you and all yours.

Saurabh Kumar

Ambassador
